DETAILED ACTION

The finality of the prior Office Action is withdrawn. Examiner has duly considered Applicant's arguments but deems them moot in light of the new grounds of rejection herein.

Claim Objections

The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not). Misnumbered claims 7-13 (there was no claim 6) were renumbered as claims 6-12. These claims were canceled and a new set of claims were added. These claims were misnumbered as claims 14-18, 20-25 (there was no claim 19) and were renumbered as claims 13-23. Now Applicant cancels all of the claims in the application and submits new misnumbered claims 26-31. These claims are renumbered as claims 24-29.

Examiner notes that in the prior Office Action the body of the Office Action mistakenly indicated that the prior set of claims were renumbered 13-25. However, the Office Action Summary correctly indicated that the pending claims were claims 13-23.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101/112

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 28 is ambiguous because it claims in the same claim a composition and method. See Ex parte Lyell, 17 USPQ2d 1548, 1551,1552 (BdPatApp&Int 1990). Furthermore, claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as said section requires that a product and process be separately claimed. Id.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 28 recites the limitation "method". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim as the claim is dependent on a composition or product claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 24-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over JP 61286327 (Abstract).

JP 61286327 expressly discloses an ointment containing nitroglycerin 10, lactose 90, 25% H₂O-containing lanolin 600 and white Vaseline® to 1000 g falling within the scope of applicant's claims.

Alternatively, at the very least the claimed invention is rendered obvious within the meaning of 35 USC 103, because the prior art discloses products and uses that contain the same exact ingredients/components as that of the claimed invention. See In re Fitzgerald, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980). See also In re May, 197 USPQ 601, 607 (CCPA 1978).

Claims 24-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 61286327 (Abstract) in view of Heaton et al..

JP 61286327 teaches that an ointment containing nitroglycerin 10, lactose 90, 25% H₂O-containing lanolin 600 and white Vaseline® to 1000 g which is effective in accelerating peripheral blood circulation.

Heaton et al. teach that nitroglycerin applied topically is effective in dilating arterial blood vessels and treating impotence (See entire document).

The difference between the prior art and the claimed invention is that the prior art does not expressly disclose a composition or produce consisting essentially of 10 wt% glyceryl trinitrate (10% in lactose), 44 wt% lanolin, 21 wt% white soft paraffin B.P. and 25 wt% demineralized water. However, the prior art suggests the same as topical compositions containing nitroglycerin, lactose, lanolin, white Vaseline ® and water are known in the art and nitroglycerin is known to be used topically to treat impotence. As such, it would have well within the skill of and one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to modify the prior art as above depending on the amount of nitroglycerin desired for effective treatment of impotence and the desired consistency of the ointment base.

Art Unit: 1616

Therefore, the claimed invention, as a whole, would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, because every element of the invention has been collectively taught by the combined teachings of the references.
